

Scott McDonald

Scott McDonald taught high school in the San Antonio area for 32 years before retiring from public school in 2014. Currently, he is professor of saxophone, supervisor of student teachers, and director of the Jazz Band at Texas Lutheran University. Mr. McDonald holds a Bachelor of Music Education from Texas Tech University and a Master's from Texas State University.